Herring Notes.

The St. John's, N. F., Herald of December 1 says: "Herring are scarce in Fortune bay yet. Capt. Sol. Jacobs was at St. Jacques in his new vessel when the Glencoe was there, but there being very little herring about he left for Belloram to try and seine a cargo. The Glencoe reports a good sign of herring in Placentia Bay, especially about Rose-au-Rue, where fine hauls were being made and all were busy picking and barreling the fish. The weather up to date is mild and there is no prospect yet of a start being made to freeze the fish.

Magistrate March of Bay of Islands, writing the Fisheries Department states that some one has been forwarding unreliable news of the herring fishery there. Up to date the fishery is in advance of last year, and since the herring struck in an average of one schooner daily has been loaded, or about 1600 barrels. This is exclusive of the local packs, which is equivalent to thousands of barrels daily. The prospects are exceptionally good and not a craft there but will secure good trips.

The Fisheries Department has also word from Fortune Bay that a good sign of herring is reported throughout the bay, and it is hoped when the Bay of Islands and Bonne-Bay fishery closes on account of the weather or other causes, Americans will find their way to this bay to load. All news from Placentia Bay, however, points to very little herring there just now.

FROM BONNE BAY.

Three Master A. V. S. Woodruff Has Big Herring Cargo.

Conflicting Herring Reports Received from Newfoundland.

The three masted sch. Arthur V. S. Woodruff, of Bucksport, Me., is here this morning from Bonne Bay, N. F., with the largest salt herring cargo of the season, 2375 barrels, 2000 of which are in bulk. The craft had had a rough and somewhat long passage but suffered no mishap.

The St. John's, N. F., Herald of Nov. 26, says:

"From Bay of Islands very poor news was yesterday received of the herring fishery. At Middle Arm there are no herring and up to date only three vessels have left there and these far from being loaded. There are hundreds of people in Bay of Islands who are merely speculators, and the failure of the fishery this fall will ruin them. Many are now running short and unless the fish strike in soon it is said that some of the men they will have to be sent to their respective homes at public expense.

Another report says that herring in fair quantity are the past week at North Arm, Bay of Islands, and the people there are making some hauls of the fish. Many American vessels are there, but the weather is mild all about the west coast, and there is no opportunity yet for freezing."

Under the same date the Herald also says:

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has received messages from various points today regarding the herring fishery. At Boone Bay herring are plentiful, but up to last night no vessels were there, 5000 barrels were shipped to the States and 3000 to Canada the past month. There are excellent prospects but no sale. A later wire stated the American schooner Edna Wallace Hopper, Capt. Mallock, arrived there this morning and would have no difficulty in loading. Yesterday evening, Capt. Sol. Jacobs arrived at St. Jacques in an American steamer and wired for permission to export a cargo of herring. Officer Clifton wired that herring were reported fairly plentiful. Two small hauls had been made and the prospects are excellent. From White Bay wire was also received that herring are very plentiful and big hauls have been made. This is good news for those interested in the fishery and as there is a herring famine in the Maritime Provinces, Maine and Massachusetts, it will put up the price of our fish."

The Herald is in error in regard to the herring famine here. The catch on this shore has indeed been light, but herring are very plentiful on the Maine coast.

Just where Capt. Solomon Jacobs is at present is a question. He left North Sydney, C. B., for Fortune Bay, and his arrival was reported at Bay of Islands, November 25. The Herald dispatch above reports his arrival at St. Jacques, November 25.

Herring still continue to run in the Beverly harbor. The Enpress took a good sized catch to Boston yesterday and Stopford & Dodge brought many barrels of the catch.
